

Curriculum vitae

14.12.2017

Dr. med. Andreas Putz

- 1984: Graduation in Medicine in Aachen/Germany
- 1984-1988: Residence training (OB/GYN) in Dortmund, Evangel. Hospital Trust Luetgendortmund/Germany
- 1985: MD – thesis on prenatal estimation of birth weight by ultrasound.
- 1989: End of Residence training (OB/GYN) in Duisburg, Bethesda Hospital Duisburg/Germany
- 1989 – 1992: Consultant (OB/GYN) Bethesda Hospital Duisburg/Germany
- 1992 – 1993: Residence training (Radiology) in Luedenscheid/Germany
- 1993: End of Residence training in Gynaecological Radiology
- 1993: – 2005 Head of the Gynaecological Department, AOPH Hospital in Dortmund/Germany
- 1994 – 1998 Course director of annual course on Salpingoscopy and Falloposcopy
- 1995: Board Certification “ Special Gynaecological Surgery”
- 1995: Board Certification “ Special Obstetrics and Perinatology”
- 2006 -2009: Head of the Gynaecological Department, Central Hospital in Molde/Norway
- 2009 – present: Head of the Gynaecological Department, Vestfold Hospital Trust/Norway
- 2012 – present: Managing Director of the national Norwegian Gynaecological Endoscopic Registry (NGER)
- 2014 – present: Chair for “Quality, Safety Legal Aspects” of the European Society for Gynaecological Surgery (ESGE)
- 2014 – present: Course director of annual international courses on Total Laparoscopic Hysterectomy (TLH) supported by Olympus
- 2017 - present: Faculty member of annual European course on gynaecological endoscopy (Gynaecology Expert Training for Upcoming Professionals = GET-UP) supported by Olympus

Clinical and research interests includes advanced minimally invasive gynaecologic surgery, robotic surgery, quality management, health service research and education in endoscopic surgery. Special interests in deeply infiltrating endometriosis and Neuropelveology.

About 50 publications, oral presentations and poster presentations on endometriosis, laparoscopic and hysteroscopic surgery, quality management and health service research.